

Our clients

Smart Services - across all industries, with maximum expertise

From medium-sized leasing companies through insurers, to international automotive groups and banks - we provide services to clients of all sizes and from many different industries. Our clients expect us to understand their requirements. They expect us to be able to support them with our services in their international markets. That is why we not only maintain a presence in numerous countries throughout Europe with our own subsidiaries or licensees, but also have many colleagues with local knowledge in various European regions.

The basis of all our relationships with clients is efficient support from under one roof, with a single personal contact in the relevant business unit. One of our board members is assigned responsibility for each region and each industry. In this way, our attention is not only focused on optimum fulfilment of the client's concrete requirements, but also on continuous development of our range and quality of services. With the permanent exchange of information and transfer of best practices on our management level, our clients, irrespective of their size or industry, benefit from the know-how and professional expertise we have built up at EXCON.

Specialist know-how from the business units, and sound knowledge of the industry concerned

With increasing complexity of the requirements, multidisciplinary know-how in the setting of a particular industry is more and more in demand. For that reason, we combine our know-how from the business units with our specialization in those sectors which we have identified as focal points in our range of services. This multidisciplinary procedure provides our clients with cross-sectoral approaches leading to solutions for specific issues.
